MAKUENI COUNTY TOURISM POLICY

2022

FOREWORD

Tourism has been a key sector of the economy by playing a primary role in foreign exchange income for Kenya. Additionally, the sector has great multiplier effects as its growth excites more development in other activities. The tourism industry accounts for a significant employment, and contributes approximately 9% to GDP; 18% Foreign Exchange earnings and is a major source of National Government revenue at 11%.

The policy provides for development of a legal and institutional framework for effective coordination and management of the sector, and enhancement of cross and inter-sectoral linkages in Makueni County.

Specifically, this policy seeks to re-engineer the tourism sector administration and management framework in the County. This will streamline the continued development of an economical and environmentally viable, and balanced tourism sector through understanding the internal and external needs and opportunities available in the sector.

The policy is in line with Makueni CIDP 2018-22, which espouses fundamental guiding principles that inform its implementation and actions to enhance sustainable tourism in the County.

It proposes innovative ways of making Makueni County an attractive tourist destination.

CHAPTER 1: BACKGROUND

1.1 Introduction

Tourism contributes significantly to the global economy. According to the World Travel and Tourism Council(WTTC), tourism accounted for 10.3% of GDP and 8.2% of total employment in 2019. Tourism is vital for the success of many economies around the world. It boosts national revenues, creates employment and develops infrastructures of a country. Jobs created from the tourism sector, transcend to many other sectors including; agriculture, communication, health, education among others.

In Kenya, tourism remains the third largest contributor to GDP after agriculture and manufacturing. Through it, employment opportunities are created, foreign exchange earnings enhanced among other benefits. The country is known to be home to national parks and reserves, wildlife conservancies, natural attractions, a broad offering of cultural and historic attractions and over 500 km of sunny coastline.

Makueni County is endowed with many natural and cultural resources such as topographical features, forests, hills, springs, rivers and national parks which form the basis for a very lucrative tourism industry, creating employment and generating income not only in the towns which are economic centres but also in rural areas. In 1980s, Makueni County's robust wildlife was a main tourist attraction in Kenya. Due to increased human activities, the wildlife population has dwindled over the years. Nonetheless, with appropriate development and marketing, tourism may once again become a leading economic sector in the County.

1.2 Rationale for the Policy

Makueni County boasts of the great potential borne by its tourism sector, which makes it necessary to identify ways of nurturing this latent wealth and channelling the benefits derived therefrom for economic development. However, several problems have drastically inhibited tourism development including limited access to tourism sites, unexploited potential tourism attractions and limited diversification of tourism products. The need for this policy is to optimize tourism development in the County.

This policy, therefore, seeks to address gaps in the legal and regulatory environment as well as to develop and streamline a sustainable tourism industry for the Makueni people. The policy will provide direction for tourism development throughout the County by creating a framework for stakeholder incorporation and public-private partnership with a view of attracting investments in existing tourism facilities as well as in establishing new ones. It will also protect the interests of the local communities, persons trading in tourism products and incorporate them in the tourism development strategies in the County.

It is intended to serve as a guiding document and provide a framework for action by all stakeholders. This policy keeps in mind diversity of the County and the input of the local communities in tourism development that may not be reflected in existing regulatory frameworks.

1.3 Guiding Principles

The following principles will underpin this policy:

- a) Public participation.
- b) Good governance.
- c) Continuous improvement.
- d) Diversification.
- e) Sustainable development.
- f) Community led tourism development.
- g) Equality, equity and fair compensation.

1.4 Policy Statement

This policy endeavours to provide the governance framework for tourism development, leading to an increase in tourist levels in Makueni County and associated economic benefits. This is with a view of tackling the identified challenges and fostering good relations with relevant institutions and stakeholders to effectively achieve the set out objectives.

1.5 Scope of the Policy

The policy seeks to develop the Makueni County tourism sector with a view to ensuring its sustainability with the eventual gain of fostering social and economic development of the County as provided in the Fourth Schedule of the Constitution of Kenya, 2010.

1.6 Policy Development Process

This policy was developed through a consultative process involving various departments of the Government of Makueni County, investors in the hospitality sector, handcraft cooperative societies, Kenya Wildlife Service (KWS), Kenya Tourism Board (KTB), Tourism Regulatory Authority (TRA), Kenya Tourism Fund and the public.

CHAPTER 2: SITUATIONAL ANALYSIS

2.1 Situational Analysis

Makueni County is committed to the development and promotion of local tourism and endeavours to expand the tourism sector to become one of the key economic pillars of the county. Tourism development is a shared function between the National and County Government as outlined in the Fourth Schedule of the Constitution of Kenya. In this regard, the County is constitutionally obligated to establish appropriate measures for the development and regulation of tourism in the County. There is need to establish a legal regulatory framework which will enable initiation of various programmes aimed at mining the revenue potential of this sector and improving the livelihoods of the residents.

Makueni County is strategically positioned within the southern tourist circuit in the country, with a rich diversity of tourism destinations including forests, spectacular natural beauty from the misty hills (Mbooni, Kilungu, Nzau and Mbui-nzau), PCEA church in Kibwezi, Chyulu Hills National park which hosts one of the longest volcanic caves in the world (Kisula caves – 11.15 km), Tsavo National Parks, natural springs and the picturesque road from Wote to Machakos. It also has a rich history on religion as the first Africa Inland Mission (AIM) station was founded at Nzau in Kalamba. Additionally, PCEA church in Kibwezi holds a rich Christianity history and the largest Sikh Temple in East and Central Africa is situated in Makindu town. There is potential for agritourism within the KALRO and DWA Sisal plantation is well-established farms within the county. However, the national government thus underexploited and inadequately utilized to realize optimum benefit for tourism growth by the county manages most of the natural attraction sites.

The Department responsible for tourism development has invested in infrastructural development since inception of devolution such as cultural centres, recreational sites, historical centres and handicraft facilities among others. To enable optimal utilization of these facilities, there is need for extensive sensitization to the community and stakeholders.

Despite investment in tourism infrastructure, the promotion of tourism and development of attractions which grow emotional attachments for tourists has been neglected. To address this, the county intends to gradually shift focus to investing in soft elements which promote experiential tourism.

To enhance resource mobilization in the tourism sector, the County Government collaborates with different institutions including National Government agencies such as KTB, TRA, KWS and Kenya Tourism Fund. However, the collaborations between these institutions and the County Government need to be strengthened to realize optimal tourism potential.

The County hosts the Konza Techno city that has great potential to enhance tourism through development of hotels, restaurants and recreational facilities. There is need for collaboration and creating linkages with the Technopolis to create tourism opportunities. Other envisioned tourism attractions include the Thwake Mega Dam which upon completion will be potential for water related activities such as boat riding.

2.2 Challenges

- 1) Inadequate legal and regulatory framework
- 2) Low utilization and under exploitation of tourism products
- 3) Weak stakeholder collaboration
- 4) Inadequate promotion of tourism products
- 5) Inadequate resource allocation to tourism development
- 6) Inadequate capacity and skills in tourism service provision
