FOREWORD

The Constitution of Kenya, in its Fourth Schedule distributes the functions between the County Government and the National Government. These functions geared towards realization of the Kenya Vision 2030 as the country's economic blue print is being implemented through five year Medium Term Plans (MTP) and County Integrated Development Plan (CIDP) which are subsequently implemented through Annual development Plan (ADP) and budget.

The constitution of Kenya 2010, County Governments Act, 2012 and the Public Finance Management Act, 2012 among other legislations stipulate the basis for the preparation of the annual development plans for all the 47 county governments. This is geared towards enhancing prudent allocation of resources as premised on policy expenditure framework aimed at achieving the transformative development agenda.

The County department of Devolution and Economic Planning is responsible for county development planning; monitoring and evaluation of economic trends in the county; coordination of implementation of CIDP; capacity building and technical assistance to other county departments on issues of policy formulation; and monitoring and evaluation of county projects and programmes.

Due to the scarcity of resources, it is indispensable that the county departments prioritize development initiatives that have significant development results for the plan period. Further, the essence of preparing Annual Development Plan is to ensure that the requisite hierarchical levels of results are documented for easy tracking of the realization of set development targets and objectives

LEGAL FRAMEWORK

The County Government Act 2012 section 104 and 105 stipulates that County Governments are responsible for among other functions preparing integrated development plans; ensuring integrated planning within the county and ensuring linkages between county plans and the national planning framework; ensuring meaningful engagement of citizens in planning process; ensuring the collection, collation, storage and updating of data and information suitable for the planning processes; and ensure that no public funds shall be appropriated outside a planning framework.

Public Finance Management Act, 2012 outlines the county planning framework which provides for the preparation of four kinds of plans; sectoral plans, spatial plans, CIDP and the Cities and Urban areas plans. Further, The Public Finance Management Act (PFMA), 2012 under Section 126, Sub-section one (1) requires county governments to prepare an Annual Development Plan (ADP) in accordance with Article 220 (2) of the constitution. The ADP which is submitted for approval to the county assembly not later than 1st September of each year provides for documentation of strategic priorities for the medium term that reflect the county government's priorities and plans; county programmes and projects to be delivered; measurable indicators of performance where feasible; and the budget allocated to the programme and projects.

CHAPTER ONE: INTRODUCTION

1.1. Overview of the County

A. Location and Size

Murang'a County is one of the five counties in Central region of the Republic of Kenya. It is bordered to the North by Nyeri, to the South by Kiambu, to the West by Nyandarua and to the East by Kirinyaga, Embu and Machakos counties. It lies between latitudes 0° 34' South and 1°7' South and Longitudes 36° East and 37° 27' East. The county occupies a total area of 2,558.8Km²

B. Demographics

The 2009 Population and Housing Census recorded a population of 936,228 persons for Murang'a County consisting of 451,751 males and 484,477 females and a growth rate of 0.4 per cent per annum. This population is projected to rise to 947,530 in 2012; 958,969 in 2015, 1,106,312 persons in 2017 and 1,128,177 in 2018. The male: female sex ratio for the county is 48:52. The higher female population in relation to male is attributed to high male emigration to other counties and towns in search of employment and business opportunities.

C. Administrative and Political Units

Administratively, the county is divided into seven constituencies; Kiharu with a total area of 409.8 square kilometres, Kangema with a total area of 173.6 square kilometres, Mathioya with a total area of 351.3 square kilometres, Gatanga with a total area of 599.0 square kilometres, Kigumo with a total area of 242.1 square kilometres, Kandara with a total area of 235.9 square kilometres and Maragwa with a total area of 466.7 square kilometres.

D. Social-economic Profile

The main economic activity in Murang'a County is agriculture. Most of the residents (80%) practice food crop farming (maize and bananas) majorly in the lowlands, cash crop farming (tea and coffee) mainly in the highlands, livestock rearing and dairy farming are also prominent in the county. The county has minimal mining activities such as quarrying which is practiced in some parts. Quarrying activities include sand harvesting, excavation of building blocks and ballast and extraction of clay soil for brick making and pottery. The main tourist attraction sites in the county are the Aberdares National Park and cultural heritage sites that have a rich history on the origins of the Agikuyu people. Such sites are at Mukurwe wa Nyagathanga and Karia Ka Mbari ya Ngware. Majority of the residents belong to the mainstream Christian denomination including Catholic and Protestants.

E. Environmental and Natural Conditions

The County is divided into three climatic regions: The western region with an equatorial type of climate, the central region with a sub-tropical climate and the eastern part with semi-arid conditions. The long rains fall in the months of March, April and May. The highest amount of rainfall is recorded in the month of April, and reliability of rainfall during this month is very high. The short rains are received during the months of October and November. The western region, Kangema, Gatanga, and higher parts of Kigumo and Kandara, is generally wet and humid due to the influence of the Aberdares and Mt. Kenya. The eastern region, lower parts of Kigumo, Kandara, Kiharu and Maragwa constituencies receive less rain and crop production requires irrigation. Some areas also experience natural catastrophes such as landslides. The highest areas form the rain catchment areas from where most of rivers draining the county originate. The terrain is dissected creating the menace of landslides and gulley erosion. The numerous streams and valleys necessitate the construction of numerous bridges to connect one ridge to the other; construction and maintenance of roads are therefore made difficult and expensive. Soils emanating from the volcanic activity are generally fertile particularly suitable for tea growing.

1.2. Annual Development Plan Linkage with CIDP

Under the County Government Act 2012 section 104 and 105, County Governments are mandated to among other functions prepare integrated development plans; ensure integrated planning within the county and ensure linkages between county plans and the national planning framework. The Public Finance Management Act, 2012 further outlines the county planning framework which provides for the preparation of four kinds of plans; Sectoral Plans, Spatial Plans, CIDP and the Cities and Urban Areas plans.

Further, The Public Finance Management Act (PFMA), 2012 under Section 126, Sub-section one (1) requires county governments to prepare an Annual Development Plan (ADP) in accordance with Article 220 (2) of the constitution. The ADP which is submitted for approval to the county assembly not later than 1st September of each year documents strategic priorities for the medium term that reflect the county government's priorities and plans; county programmes and projects to be delivered; measurable indicators of performance where feasible; and the budget allocated to the programme and projects.

1.3. Preparation Process of the Annual Development Plan

The preparation of the Murang'a County Annual Development Plan followed the guidelines issued by the Ministry of Devolution and Planning, state department of planning and statistics. To compile the plan, the department of Economic Planning applied various data generation methodologies including document reviews, focused group discussions, field visits, key informant interviews and reports from the county directorate heads. The methodology further accorded the community opportunity to express their opinions about the prioritized projects and programmes through various public fora.

The data from the monitoring and evaluation exercises by the County Monitoring and Evaluation committee formed an integral part of the data collection process as it provided avenue for direct observation, assessment, and data recording at source. This further enabled recordings of views of the M&E committee members on the performance of the previous county projects. Data collection template were developed by the department of economic planning based on the M&E plan of the County Integrated Development Plan and populated by all the county departments.

CHAPTER FIVE: MONITORING AND EVALUATION

5.1. Introduction

This chapter focuses on development of a monitoring and evaluation system for specified programmes and projects to be implemented during the plan period. It also specifies objectively verifiable indicators that will be used to monitor project/programme implementation. It also specifies the roles of various stakeholders in the monitoring and evaluation system.

During the plan period, M&E of activities will be a continuous exercise and it is proposed to be done periodically as follows; annual reviews that will be aligned to the County Integrated Monitoring System (CIMES), National Integrated Monitoring System (NIMES), a mid-term review (mid-plan) period and a review after implementation of the current plan period (end term review).

5.2. Performance Indicators adopted from CIMES

A performance indicator evaluates the success of a project, program, or policy. Choosing the right performance indicator is dependent on the clear understanding of what is important to the implementing agency. The CIMES guidelines have been developed through extensive consultations and dialogue with all relevant stakeholders. The guidelines cater for indicators cutting across all development sectors. Their implementation across the county M&E process will enhance the feedback mechanism for effective project/program review.

If key objectives as formulated by the departments are not clear, it is very difficult to relate them to the performance indicators outlined in the CIMES. This often results from departmental limitations on M&E capacity which makes it difficult to relate the formulated performance indicators to the ones provided by CIMES. Properly developed indicators as provided for in CIMES allow for easy deciphering of the M&E data.

5.3. Institutional Framework for monitoring and evaluation of ADP Projects

To ensure County M&E of projects and programmes in the ADP serve its intended purpose in supporting decision making, policy formulation, and accountability, the following mechanisms have been put in place

1. County departments shall submit timely and accurate progress reports on programmes and projects to the Chief Officer responsible for M&E, in line with approved reporting standards and formats;
2. Departmental sectors shall submit regular reports as defined in their internal M&E mechanisms to Departmental M&E Units.
3. County departments implementing donor-funded projects shall submit regular reports in the intervals and formats as specified in the contracts to respective donors.
4. Development partners shall submit reports on key development indicators to the Chief Officer responsible for M&E at that time specified in the CIMES.
5. Departmental Monitoring and Evaluation Units in collaboration with the department of economic planning shall prepare monthly, quarterly and Annual M&E reports, submitted to the Chief Officer responsible for M&E.

The County Integrated Monitoring and Evaluation system (CIMES) incorporates monitoring systems in the county that finally feed into the national system (NIMES). Monitoring and Evaluation in the County will be continuous through the plan period.
